Re: Nada Prouty Manuscript

Dear Ms. Prouty:

This letter is in response to the submission of your manuscript received for review on May 2, 2011, pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP) and the Prepublication Review Manual (POL05-0001-RMD).

This manuscript was reviewed pursuant to the terms of the PRP and the reviewer noted the following listed matters which require amendment/correction.

1. For the following names, please insure that pseudonyms are used to protect the identity of these individuals unless the names listed below are already pseudonyms. If you have written approval from any of the above individuals to use their real names, please provide a copy of the authorization. Also, in instances when only first names are used, please ensure these names are also pseudonyms.

2. On page 96, lines 7-16, please revise the text as follows, "Firearms weren't a joke for me. I didn't come from the macho "gun culture" encouraged in the FBI. I was one of the statistically small number of agents who actually used weapons as tools to accomplish the FBI's real missions. Just the week before Rick's offensive cinematography, I was carrying a concealed submachine gun, to provide security for a fellow agent who was going to meet a potentially hostile individual, as the agent, believed he would likely be instantly murdered should the situation turn bad. And yet I was so easily thrown off by Rick's juvenile joke or the range pest's "you shoot like a girl" comment."

3. On page 117, lines, 13-17, please revise the text as follows, "I owed it to the hard work and the outstanding relationships Mike had built with local law enforcement officers. He filled me in on the details of the planned interviews. The situation required us to be extraordinarily flexible and adapt on the fly to whatever circumstances we might face."

4. On page 138, lines 4-7, please revise the text as follows, "In early 2001, I flew to Islamabad, Pakistan for one of the most important debriefings of my career. Al-Qaeda's leadership had its roots in both Pakistan and Afghanistan."

5. On page 139, lines 15-18, please revise the text as follows, "Important debriefings, more often than not, are long, tedious processes; given the asset's travel schedule we had been fortunate to secure a meeting, and we needed to make the most of it."

6. On page 140, lines 15-17, please revise the text as follows, "I looked at my watch, and when I saw the date, it hit me. I had been crossing the time zones during my 48-hour flight from Washington, and the day simply got lost in mid-air-literally."

7. On page 145, lines 1-5, please revise the text as follows, "The person I needed to move was young, scared, uneducated, and had no reason to trust me. I was traveling on a diplomatic passport, but since diplomatic immunity only applies to individuals permanently assigned to a particular country, my travels would leave me dangerously exposed to local security organizations."

8. On page 147, lines 18-19, please revise the text as follows, "Luckily, things went smoothly. I left our Southeast Asian hideaway and traveled with the subject of the exfiltration to our next stop, an island in the Pacific Ocean."

9. On page 148, lines 3-10, please revise the text as follows, "While on the island, I took advantage of some free time to tour the island and do some diving. Diving was a hobby I enjoyed, but my schedule had always been too hectic to be able to devote enough time to becoming an advanced diver-something I really wanted to follow up on. I knew that Gordon was an accomplished diver, so here was another hobby we had in common. I found myself wishing I could have shared the beauty of the dive with him. My loneliness was catching up to me. All these dangerous missions and beautiful stopovers left me wanting a companion to share things with."

10. On pages 159-162 and 164, please remove all references pertaining to the country or locations in the country from which Zayed Safarini was rendered. The use of a euphemism such as, "undisclosed third party country" is acceptable.

11. On page 160, lines 2-5, please remove the sentence on line 2, beginning with "The team consisted...", to the end of the parentheses on line 5.

12. On pages 160, 163 and 164 please remove all mentions of on these pages. The use of a euphemism such as "team leader" is acceptable.

13. On page 162, line 4, please revise the text as follows, "Two agents gathered around Safarini."

14. On page 190, lines 4-5, please revise the text as follows, "Ed called me into his office and told me that he was assigning me the Foley assassination case."

b7E -3

18. On page 206, beginning on line 11, please remove all text after the word "investigation", and remove line 12 in its entirety.

19. On page 207, lines 4-6, please revise the text as follows, "I was disappointed with myself. Sometimes I felt like my work was all I could think of and all I could do; it was my number one priority."

20. On page 208, remove the first sentence on this page in its entirety.

21. On page 208, remove the last sentence of the third paragraph, beginning on line 10 and ending on line 11.

22. On page 208, lines 13-15, revise the text as follows, "In this case, however, I said nothing. I simply sat there. In that moment, something became clear."

23. Page 235, lines 17-21, pages 236-239, and page 240, lines 1-2, reveals specific information on an event that is not public knowledge. Please remove the information in its entirety.

24. On page 240, revise lines 18-20 to read, "I felt deceived, I realized as though I, unwittingly, had played a role in the campaign that convinced the American public of the legitimacy of Operation Iraqi Freedom."

25. On page 240, revise line 21 to read, "After seeing what I did, I know that I should have followed my instincts back in 2001 and asked more questions."

26. On page 241, lines 1-5 please revise the text as follows, "And I came to believe, while rummaging around Iraq, pregnant and putting my life on the line and not finding any signs of WMD, that politics and some politicians did not hesitate to endanger both- civilians and government employees to further their causes."

For those instances where information must be removed, please submit for review any non-specific substitute language.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact [redacted] in the prepublication office at 540-868-1697 or via e-mail at [redacted]. Thank you for your participation in the FBI's prepublication review process.

Attached is  I do not expect any substantial changes (other than editing and grammar). I'm glad to hear you're enjoying this. However  is pretty dry, however I'd be interested in any comments you have. I know I have to really clean up the passive voice, but making sure the reader understands the methodology is my main concern.

Thank you,
